

September is RESPECT MONTH!

I live with Respect

I will treat myself and others with consideration, high regard, courtesy and dignity.

WHAT IS RESPECT?

Definition: To have deferential regard for: to treat with consideration.

RESPECT is when you show good manners, pay attention, treat others as you would like to be treated.

I WILL:

Be polite, dignified, honorable and positive in my dealings with others.

- Respect lesson from Teen Character Counts!

http://www.charactercenter.com/ Teen_Character_Counts.pdf

- Bullies are often trying to make people "respect" them. Is this really respect, or is it fear? What is the difference? How is bullying and violent behavior an act of disrespect?
 - Have students watch a TV sitcom. First, identify the target audience. Next, record examples of respectful behaviour, then disrespectful behaviour. Share as a class, then identify why we find disrespectful behaviour so entertaining. Discuss stereotypes.

HOW DO I SHOW RESPECT?

Hey, it's not as hard as you think, especially now that you're thinking about it.

RESPECT can be shown in many little ways and, if you want your children to be respectful, the best way to achieve that is to model respectful behaviour for them. Here are some ideas:

- Thank the people who serve you each day, genuinely and with a big smile. The grocery clerk, the gas bar attendant, the teacher, the telephone operator. If your child sees you being genuinely grateful for the contributions of others, s/he will be encouraged to adopt that behavior.
- Demonstrate care for the environment. Be respectful of parents and public places by putting your trash and recyclables in the appropriate containers.
- Listen to your child. Look him/her in the eye when the two of you are talking. Pay attention. Repeat the key message. Acknowledge the information and show you
- Say "Please" and "Thank You" often and honestly.
 - Teach your children about other cultures, about people who have different abilities or physical challenges, about other types of families. Demonstrate a respect for the differences in our community and celebrate our diversity. It will demonstrate respect.

OCTOBER is INITIATIVE MONTH!

I live with Initiative

I will recognize what needs to be done and do it, without prompting from others.

WHAT IS INITIATIVE?

Definition: the power or opportunity to act independently with a fresh approach before others do.

INITIATIVE is when we act without being prompted by others. We are eager to do what needs to be done without having to be told to do it. We take the first step towards the achievement of a goal.

I WILL:

- do things without having to be asked.
- pitch in where I see I am needed.
- be innovative and enthusiastic in everything that I do.

WHAT DOES INITIA-TIVE LOOK LIKE?

Initiative is about doing something even if it isn't necessarily your job or responsibility to do so.

It's about doing something that you haven't been asked to do because you know it must be done or you see a need that is unmet.

Having initiative not only allows you to do what needs to be done quickly and effectively, but also prompts others to become involved in the endeavors you undertake because they see your positive work habits.

You become a role model for others.

NOVEMBER is COURAGE MONTH!

I live with Courage

I will stand up for my beliefs and principles and face challenges, fear and difficulty with fortitude.

WHAT IS COURAGE?

Definition: Courage is demonstrated by people who stand up for what they believe in their heart to be the right thing to do, even when others don't support them and might try to convince them that they are wrong.

I WILL:

- Continue to do what I know to be right, even when it would be easier to follow another bath.

- Emotional Courage: overcoming feelings of fear i.e., standing up to a bully.
- Spiritual Courage: overcoming fears to act on values that are important to you, i.e. Having the spiritual courage to take action against an injustice you see taking place in the school yard.

- ☆ * What was the hardest stand you ever had to take with a friend? Did it cost you anything? What were the benefits? 🖈 (www.goodcharacter.com)
 - Profiles in Courage: Have the students, 🖈 either individually or in groups, identify acts of courage by people in the news or by people in your school or community. Then have each individual or group make a presentation to the class and conduct a discussion. What do these selections have in common? What are their differences? What can the students learn about themselves from the selections they made? What have they learned from the people they ጵ selected? (www.goodcharacter.com)
 - Have your students bring in articles from magazines and newspapers describing situations in which moral courage is an issue. Conduct a discussion in which they decide who is acting ☆ courageously and who isn't.

WHAT DOES COURAGE LOOK LIKE?

Courage is about being true to yourself and what you know is right. Here's an example of when you might demonstrate courage:

There is a new student in your class and everyone is making fun of them and excluding them. You feel pretty bad about this and you know it's not the right thing to do. But if you speak up, your friends might treat you the same way. What do you do?

FOR DISCUSSION:

This is a good topic for discussion. It would be easier to ignore it; it might get better when everyone knows the new student better. What's at stake for you if you defend the new student? Is there any way you can make your friends change their behavior?

Extension:

Connections can be drawn between the attributes of "courage" and "responsibility".

When you know that something wrong is happening, do you have a responsibility to change things, even if you are not actively involved in the hurtful behavior?

As a member of the classroom community, do you have a responsibility to speak out on what you believe is right?

DECEMBER is EMPATHY AND COMPASSION MONTH!

I live with Empathy and Compassion

I will do whatever is necessary to heal the hurts of others. I will strive to understand and be sensitive to their feelings.

WHAT IS EMPATHY?

Definition: Empathy means identifying with, and being concerned about other people's feelings and needs.

WHAT IS COMPASSION?

Definition: The act of compassion is seeking to understand another's struggles from his or her point of view and then doing whatever is necessary to heal the hurt.

I WILL:

 - Me to We has an entire chapter on Empathy (p. 157)

TALKING ABOUT EMPA-THY and COMPASSION

At the core of empathy and compassion is the ability to listen-really listen-to others. When you listen to another person's story you begin to experience the world through their eyes, through their feelings and through their heart.

Sometimes it is hard to imagine the experiences of another person, especially if they are different from you. Perhaps they are from a different culture or older or younger than you. Perhaps they have different opinions than you have. Sometimes it is difficult to feel empathy for someone who is different, but that is only because it is difficult to imagine how he or she feels.

 $\stackrel{\wedge}{\Rightarrow}$

 $\stackrel{\wedge}{\Rightarrow}$

 $\stackrel{\wedge}{\Rightarrow}$

When you are able to listen to their story then you can begin to understand them. As you understand another person, you become sensitive to their feelings. This understanding of how another person feels, is empathy, and when individuals are empathetic, they can then demonstrate acts of compassion. You may be willing to do whatever is necessary to heal another's hurt, and if you have really listened to their story, you will know exactly what that person needs.

Like all positive attributes, compassion has its own rewards. Becoming involved in the life of another brings a deeper level of intimacy and friendship. You will be a happier person and the world will be a kinder, gentler place because of your compassion.

- Idiom analysis: Have the students draw what it literally means: "Sees the world through rose-coloured glasses." Discuss what it actually means. This can be repeated with others, such as comparing "Is the glass is half-full, or half-empty?"
- Develop a personal mission statement. (The 7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens, p. 81).
 Stress the importance of being optimistic when looking at life.
- Don't Worry, Be Happy. Along with the mission statement, develop a personal mantra that screams optimism.
- Watch the movie Cool Runnings. Discuss how by believing in themselves and maintaining a positive attitude, the first ever Jamaican bobsled team overcame numerous obstacles to win the respect of fellow Olympians.
- Listen to the Sinéad O'Connor song quoted above. Discuss how it illustrates optimism.

WHAT DOES OPTIMISM LOOK LIKE?

OPTIMISM allows us to look at the bright side. When things don't go the way you want and when it would be easy to be negative, take a positive approach. Think of how the members of Team Canada's 2003-04 junior hockey team must have felt after a very difficult one-goal loss in the gold medal game. While it's natural to be angry about losing, consider the learning opportunity gained by this experience. By focusing on the positive and looking toward the future, those players who return the following year will be better prepared when facing a similar situation. This will provide them with what it takes to be gold medal winners!

FEBRUARY is HONESTY MONTH!

I live with Honesty

I will be sincere, trustworthy and truthful.

WHAT IS HONESTY?

HONESTY is when you commit to being true to yourself and others.

I WILL:

- speak the truth with kindness and caring.
- be trustworthy, so people know they can depend on me.
- be sincere. There is no difference between what I say and do and what I believe in my heart

THE LITTLE WHITE LIE

We all know it's fine to talk about telling the truth all the time, but is it always the right thing to do?

Is it always a good thing to do?

 $\stackrel{\wedge}{\Rightarrow}$

Is it always necessary?

What if the truth will hurt someone's feelings?

This is a good subject for a discussion. Some people say it's OK to tell a little white lie if you're doing it so that feelings don't get hurt. Some people say it's never OK to lie, no matter what.

'Think of a situation where you told a little white lie. What was the reason?

What did you learn about your character when it happened?

Is it trying to make you believe something that might not be true? Is it lying by omission, i.e. leaving out important information that would make a difference to you? Is it misleading in any way? Does it present any half-truths?
- Debate idea: discuss the whole concept of "little white lie." What does it mean? Is it okay to tell a little white lie?

WHAT DOES HONESTY LOOK LIKE?

HONESTY can be demonstrated and acknowledged in many ways by adults, teens and children alike. Here is a true story about honesty that happened in a public high school.

A student approached his teacher and said, "I think my mark has been calculated incorrectly. It's 95 and I think it should be 85."

The teacher said he doubted if he was off in his calculations by 10 points, but reviewed the mark with the student.

Sure enough, the student's mark should have been 85. "Because I appreciate your honesty," the teacher said, "Let's split the difference. We'll make it a 90."

The student declined. "I earned 85 and that's what my mark should be."

Why not use this story as a discussion point with your family.

Would you have been as honest as this student?

MARCH is INTEGRITY MONTH!

I live with Integrity

A CANADIAN ROLE MODEL OF PERSE-VERANCE

Terry Fox is a Canadian hero. Over the course of 143 days, Terry ran 5,373 Km and ran through six provinces, raising a total of $24 million for cancer research. It was Terry's perseverance and his belief in himself and his mission that made his Marathon of Hope a success. At one point during the run, Terry said, "Everyone seems to have given up hope of trying. I haven't. It isn't easy and it isn't supposed to be, but I'm accomplishing something. I just wish people would realize that anything's possible if you try."

- I Am Going to Make a Difference unit from Anti-Bullying Curriculum, Grade 8
- Grad Activity: THE FUTURE'S SO BRIGHT... There is so much to look forward to as you grow older and more responsible. What purchase is very special in your dreams? Draw and cut out a large pair of eyeglasses with fun frames. Paste 🖈 these on a folded construction paper booklet and entitle it, "Looking Forward To... " Inside, include a picture of, or write a description of special items that you would like in the future. Include details: cost, care, and what kind of responsibility you think is involved in your choice. Mind Over Manners
- Grad Activity: Review all the character traits with the Grade 8 students. In one paragraph, have them tell which trait they'd like others to see in them and why they feel this is the trait that is most important to them. Print them in large font and hang them under the Grad's silhouettes at graduation.

WHAT DOES RESPONSIBILITY LOOK LIKE?

RESPONSIBILITY can be demonstrated and acknowledged in many ways by adults, teens and children alike.

Here are some ideas:

- Be responsible for the world around you ... be sure to recycle, conserve water and don't
- When your mom or dad picks you up after the movies, when they said they would, be sure to thank them for being responsible.
- When your teenager chooses to stay in and complete homework rather than hanging out with friends, acknowledge how responsible that action is and how much it benefits the teenager.
- When you make a mistake at home or at work, accept the consequences. Apologise, acknowledge the error and do what you can to make the situation right. Don't be afraid to tell your child that you were wrong.
- Live a neat, orderly life. Keep clutter out of your world. Teach your children that it's responsible to pick up after yourself and you'll demonstrate an important skill organization!
- If you make a promise to someone, keep it.
- If a child knows that a friend is going to do something that could hurt him or someone else, the responsible thing to do is tell a trusted adult.
